

Proportion of catches by gear type

Gill nets constitute more than 50% of the catch on a monthly scale. Except before 2020 when the use of long lines was marginal the relative usage of different gear types was comparable along the time series.

